California – California University of Pennsylvania (Cal U) and the Pennsylvania Council on Financial Literacy will support local schools in the sponsorship of the California University of PA Stock Market Challenge from the Pennsylvania Council on Financial Literacy (PennCFL). The sponsorship will include all 3rd to 12th grade students for both of the spring games, for all divisions – elementary, middle and high school. The Spring Game starts Feb. 10th 2020.

The schools invited to participate are all public and private schools in Allegheny, Greene, Fayette, Washington, and Westmoreland County in the elementary, middle or high school competitions. There will be prizes for first place student in each district middle and high school, along with prizes for the best in the five-county region.

With world-class academics, state-of-the-art facilities and proximity to the City of Pittsburgh, California University of Pennsylvania (Cal U) offers more than just learning. Accredited and affordable, Cal U provides students with an excellent educational experience at a tremendous value. Cal U professors are some of the best in their fields, committed to academic excellence and intellectual rigor, and offering real-world experience. Cal U offers hundreds of undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degree programs, plus certificates, certifications and other special programs. Learn on campus, online or with a hybrid approach. For 13 consecutive years, Cal U has been named one of the best schools in the Northeast by The Princeton Review.

PennCFL's mission is to provide Pennsylvania's K-12 students with economic, personal finance, and entrepreneurship skills that elevate their standard of living, quality of life, and professional success. PennCFL sponsors financial games and programs, with the participation of over ten thousand students, in the 45 counties of Pennsylvania. Also, they offer entrepreneurship conferences and competitions with partnering colleges and universities.
